Women's Equality Day

Women play a vital role in the Army of today, holding positions in over 93.2 percent of military occupations. They are Soldiers who contribute to our Army's rich history. They are valuable civilian employees, administrators, analysts, managers, scientists, and technicians. They are doctors, pilots, mechanics, military police officers, and engineers. We honor women for their military and civil service, for their strength, honor and pride. We also honor women for their sacrifice while fighting for our freedom and their right to be an equal part of our Nation and Army.

Mr. Larry Smith, Deputy to the Commander of Parks Reserve Forces Training Area, presents Lisa Frederiksen a certificate of appreciation for her presentation during Parks celebration of Women's Equality Day on August 26, 2011. Frederiksen is a consultant and reviewed author of numerous articles and eight books, four of them biographies of prominent leaders in the women's and civil rights movement: Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Susan B. Anthony, Betty Friedan and Ella Baker.
